Explanation: FATF Public statement, the reports and guidance notes on KYC/AML issued by the Indian Bank Association (IBA) may also be used in risk assessment.

3. CUSTOMER IDENTIFICATION PROCEDURE (CIP)

One of the objectives of the "KYC" norms is to ensure appropriate Customer Identification. Customer Identification means undertaking the process of Customer due diligence (CDD) i.e. identifying the customer and verifying his/her identity by using reliable, independent source of documents, data or information.

Customer identification procedure is to be carried out at different stages i.e.

- (a) while establishing a banking relationship i.e. commencement of an account-based relationship with the customer.
- (b) carrying out a financial transaction and
- (c) when the bank has a doubt about the authenticity / veracity or the adequacy of the earlier obtained customer / identification data.
- (d) Carrying out any international money transfer operations for a person who is not an account holder of the bank.
- (e) Selling third party products as agents, selling their own products, payment of dues of credit cards/sale and reloading of prepaid/travel cards and any other product for more than fifty thousand.
- (f) Carrying out transactions for a non-account-based customer, that is a walk-in customer, where the amount involved is equal to or exceeds rupees fifty thousand, whether conducted as a single transaction or several transactions that appear to be connected.
- (g) When there is reason to believe that a customer (account-based or walk-in) is intentionally structuring a transaction into a series of transactions below the threshold of rupees fifty thousand.

Branches need to obtain sufficient information necessary to establish, to their satisfaction, the identity of each new customer, whether regular or occasional, and the purpose of the intended nature of banking relationship. Being satisfied means that we are able to satisfy the competent authorities that due diligence was observed based on the risk profile of the customer in compliance with the extant guidelines in place.

3.1 IDENTIFICATION OF CUSTOMER

Identification of a customer is an important pre-requisite for opening an account. No Account is opened for any person without proper verification of the identity of the person. Careless handling of the matter may give room for undesirable customers to commit frauds, misappropriation and deceive the general public. Necessary precaution and strict adherence of norms in this respect can be a check on the activities of miscreants trying to defraud the Banking System.

Video based Customer Identification (V-CIP) is an alternate method of customer identification with facial recognition and customer due diligence by an authorized official of the branch for opening an account by undertaking seamless, secure, real-time, consent based audio-visual interaction with the customer to obtain identification information required for CDD purpose, and to ascertain the veracity of the information furnished by the customer through independent verification and maintaining audit trail of the process. Such process complying with prescribed standards and procedures shall be treated on par with CIP process.

3.1.1 WHAT IS IDENTITY?

Identity generally means a set of attributes which together uniquely identify a 'natural' or a 'legal' person. The attributes which help in unique identity of a 'natural' or 'legal' person are called "identifiers". Identifiers are of twotypes: (A) Primary and (B) Secondary.

A) Primary Identifiers : Means and includes name (in full), Father's name, Date of Birth, Passport number, Voter Identity Card, Driving License, PAN number etc. as they help in uniquely establishing the identity of the person.

B) Secondary Identifiers: Includes address, location, Nationality and othersuch identification, as they help further refine the identity. The customer identification does not start and end at the point of application but it is always an ongoing exercise.

3.1.1.1. Natural Person:A natural person's identity comprises his name andall other names used, the date of birth, and an address/location at which he/she can be located and also his/herrecentphotograph.

3.1.1.2. Legal Person: The legal status of the legal person/entity should beverified through proper andrelevant documents; verify that any personpurporting to act on behalf of the legal person/entity is so authorizedand identify and verify the identity of that person;understand theownership and control structure of the customer and determine who arethe natural person(s) who ultimately control the legal person.

The identity of a legal/corporate personcomprises its name, any othernames it may use, and details of its registered office andbusinessaddresses.

3.1.2 WHAT IS IDENTIFICATION?

- 3.1.2.1. Identification is the act of establishing who a person is.
- 3.1.2.2. In the context of KYC, identification means establishing who a person purports to be.
- 3.1.2.3. This is done by recording the information provided by the customer covering the elements of his identity (i.e. name and all other names used, and the address at which they can be located).
- 3.1.2.4. For undertaking CDD, the following shall be obtained from an individual while establishing an account-based relationship or while dealing with the individual who is a beneficial owner, authorized signatory or the power of attorney holder related to any legal entity.The features to be verified and the documents to be obtained for establishing identity of a person/customer are as under:-

3.1.2.5 Salaried Persons:

An account should not be opened, for salaried employees, by relying on a certificate/letter issued by the employer as the only KYC document for the purposes of certification of identity as well as address proof. Such a practice is open to misuse and fraught with risk. Branches should insist on PAN along with documents specified for CDD procedure in case of individuals to open account of salaried employees of corporate and other entities.

3.1.2.6 Full operational facilities in with spouse staying at separate stations:

Branches may consider extending full operational facilities, likeissuance of ATM/Debit Card, mobile banking, purchase of DD,transfer of funds, utility bill payments, merchandising services, purchases etc. by using ‘on-line’ banking facility, to the spousestaying at different stations, if one of them i.e. husband or wife isstaying at home-branch station.

3.1.2.7 Accounts portability/ opening of new Bank Accounts:

Branches are advised that KYC once done by one branch should be valid for transfer of the account within the bank as long as full KYC verification has been done for the concerned account and the same is not due for periodic updation. The customer should be allowed to transfer his account from one branch to another branch without restrictions. Branches may transfer existing accounts at the transferor branch to the transferee branch without insisting on fresh proof of address.

If an existing KYC compliant customer of a bank desires to open another account in the same bank, there should be no need for a fresh CDD exercise / no need for submission of fresh proof of identity and / or proof of address for the purpose.

3.1.2.8 Accounts of Politically Exposed Persons (PEPs):

- a. Politically exposed persons are individuals who are or have been entrusted with prominent public functions in a foreign country, e.g., Heads of States / Governments, senior politicians, seniorgovernment/judicial/military officers, senior executives of stateownedcorporations, important political party officials, etc. The identity of the person is to be verified before accepting PEP as the customer. The decision to open an account for PEP should be taken at a senior level. Branches should also subject such accounts to enhanced monitoring on an ongoing basis. Sufficient information including information about the sources of funds, accounts of family members and close relatives is to be gathered on the PEPs. The above norms may also be applied to the accounts of the family members or close relatives of PEPs and where PEP is the beneficial owner.

- b. In the event of an existing customer or the beneficial owner of an existing account, subsequently becoming a PEP, branches should obtain senior management approval to continue the business relationship and subject the account to the CDD measures as applicable to the customers of PEP category including enhanced monitoring on an ongoing basis. In this connection the Branch Manager in case of Scale IV and above Branches and Regional Managers in case of Branches up to Scale III are the competent authority to take decision to open an account of PEPs. These instructions are also applicable to accounts where PEP is the ultimate beneficial owner.
- c. Further, branches should have appropriate ongoing risk management procedures for identifying and applying enhanced CDD to PEPs, customers who are close relatives of PEPs, and accounts of which, PEP is the ultimate beneficial owner.

3.1.2.9 High Net-worth Individuals/ Customers (HNIs):

High net Worth Individual (HNI) is a term used by financial services Industry (Banks/ FIs) to designate Individual Customers whose investible wealth exceeds a given amount. Typically these individuals are defined based on holding of financial assets value greater than some amount to be decided by the concerned Financial Institution/ Banks.

The ‘High net-worth Individuals (HNIs)’ are defined as those Individual customers who fulfill one of the following two criteria and shall be categorized as High Risk Customers.

A) Average Account Balance Criteria:

- I. Customers who are maintaining Average Quarterly Balance exceeding Rs 50 lakh in Saving Accounts.
- II. Customers who are maintaining Average Quarterly Balance exceeding Rs 100 lakh in Current Accounts.
- III. Customers who are maintaining Average Quarterly Balance exceeding Rs 100 lakh in Term Deposit Accounts.

For determining HNIs, the average balances maintained in Saving and Current accounts of the Customer during the preceding two quarters (half year) shall be reckoned.

In case of Term Deposits, Customers who maintained aggregate deposit amount of Rs. 100 lakhs during the preceding two quarters (half year) shall be reckoned.

B) Account Transaction Turnover Criteria:

For determining HNIs, the Individual Customers who had carried out sum of Credit transactions of value exceeding Rs. 500 lakh in Saving Account and / or Rs. 2500 Lakhs in Current/ Cash Credit/ Over Draft accounts during the proceeding two quarters (half year) shall be reckoned.

The classification of customers as HNIs shall be carried out by Central Office based on above criteria at half yearly intervals and will be system driven. The branches should not change the HNI customers determined at system level and there will not be any manual process for classification of HNIs. While on-boarding new customers, branches should not classify any customer as HNI, since the HNIs are determined based on the quarterly average balances maintained/ Transactions Turnover in Accounts as stated above.

Branches shall prepare risk profile of each customer, who has been classified as HNIs by the System and apply enhanced due diligence measures as applicable to High Risk Customers.

3.1.2.10 Accounts of non-face-to-face customers: Non-face-to-face customer means customers who opened accounts without visiting the branch /offices or meeting the officials.

With the introduction of telephone and electronic banking, increasingly accounts are being opened by banks for customers without the need for the customer to visit the bank branch. In the case of non-face-to-face customers, apart from applying the usual customer identification procedures, there must be specific and adequate procedures to mitigate the higher risk involved. Certification of all the documents presented should be insisted upon and, if necessary, additional documents may be called for. In such cases, branches shall ensure that the first payment to be effected through the customer's KYC compliant account with another bank which, in turn, adheres to similar KYC standards for enhanced due diligence of non-face-to-face customer. In the case of cross-border customers, there is the additional difficulty of matching the customer with the documentation and the bank may have to rely on third party certification/introduction.

In such cases, it must be ensured that the third party is a regulated and supervised entity and has adequate KYC systems in place.

3.1.2.11 Guidelines on Walk-in-Customers: Walk-in Customer means a person who does not have an account-based relationship with the bank, but undertakes transactions with the bank.

a) Transactions carried out by a non-account based customer, that is a walk-in customer, where the amount of transaction, viz. international money transfer operations, issue of travellers' cheques, issuance of demand draft/RTGS/NEFT/EFT, sale of gold coins/silver/platinum/third party products is equal to or exceeds rupees fifty thousand during any one day, whether conducted as a single transaction or several transactions that appear to be connected, should be effected by debit to the customer's account or against cheques only and not against tendering cash and the customer's identity, address and PAN number should be verified.

- b) However, if a bank has reason to believe that a customer is intentionally structuring a transaction into a series of transactions below the threshold of Rs.50,000/- the bank should verify the identity and address of the customer and also consider filing a suspicious transaction report (STR) to FIU-IND”.
- c) Branches have to maintain records in respect of transactions carried out with walk-in customers for a period and in the manner prescribed in Para 10.5 of this policy as in case of any other records as per PML act.

3.1.2.12 Domestic Money Transfer- Relaxations (Walk-in-Customers)

3.1.2.12.1 Payment of amounts transferred from a bank account (Cash Payout Schemes)

Under mobile banking, it is permitted to provide services which facilitate transfer of funds from the accounts of customers for delivery in cash to the recipients not having bank accounts at an ATM or through an agent appointed as Business Correspondent. The ceiling on the value of such transfers has been now raised from Rs.5,000 to Rs.10,000 per transaction subject to the cap of Rs.25,000 per month. It has been further decided to permit facilitate such fund transfers through any other authorized payment channels as well. The remitting branches shall obtain full details of the name and address of the beneficiary.

3.1.2.12.2. Payment of amounts to be credited to bank accounts (Cash Pay in Scheme)

A walk-in customer at a bank branch can remit funds up to Rs.50,000 to the bank account of a beneficiary through NEFT. Besides, banks are also permitted to allow such customers to transfer funds to a Bank account of a beneficiary through BCs, ATMs, etc. up to a maximum amount of Rs.5,000 per transaction with a monthly cap of Rs.25,000. Such a walk-in customer needs to provide minimum details like his name and complete address to the remitting bank.

3.1.3 WHAT IS VERIFICATION?

Verification of identity is the process of proving whether a person actually is who he claims to be. In the context of KYC, verification is the process of seeking satisfactory evidence of the identity of those with whom the Bank does business. This is done by carrying out checks on the correctness of the information provided by the client. The best available evidence of identity should be obtained, having regard to the circumstances of each client and their country of origin. Some forms of proof of identity are more reliable than others, and in some cases it will be prudent to carry out more than one verification check.

3.1.4 VERIFICATION OF CREDENTIALS/ANTECEDENTS:

Before opening an account, the banker must get true identity of the intending customer verified and his acceptability for establishing business relationship should be ascertained. When the Bank opens an account in the name of a customer, it has to render a number of services, including collection of cheques in the ordinary course of business. It is, therefore, essential that the bank is aware of the credentials of the prospective customer such as his profession, business address, etc. and verification of antecedents of account holder in each and every account is, therefore, essential.

3.1.5 FORMALITIES FOR OPENING OF ACCOUNT:

3.1.5.1. To verify the residential address given by the customer, banks generally ask for copies of passport, driving license, identity card issued by any institution, copy of electricity or telephone bill, copy of any communication issued by Central/State Government authorities showing residential address or any other evidence, in support of the address given in the account opening form.

3.1.5.2. Verification of the residential address provided by the customer is now assuming greater importance. While considering loan products, verification is usually done through a visit. However, this is not possible in all cases of account opening. As such, this may be achieved by mailing a welcome kit containing chequebooks, rules book, pamphlets on various schemes of the Bank etc. in the address provided by the customer.

3.1.5.3. The banks also contact customer at the telephone number provided in the account to verify the customer details.

3.1.5.4. While opening accounts of corporate bodies, firms, trusts etc. the banks obtain documentary evidence regarding existence of the entity, powers of authorized persons to operate the account etc.

3.1.5.5. An interview with the prospective customer is recommended while opening an account as the interview would help in knowing the customer and preparing the profile.

3.1.6. Process for Video based Customer Identification (V-CIP):

However, Branches to continue engaging with the customers for having their KYC updated in such cases. In view of the above, branches should continue their efforts to update the KYC/ Re-KYC by engaging with the customers, but there shall not be any restrictions on permitting operations in the accounts till 31.03.2022.

3.1.8 Cessation of account for non submission of PAN or equivalent e-document thereof or Form No.60: In case of existing customers, where the Permanent Account Number or equivalent e-document thereof or Form No.60 are not obtained, by such date as may be notified by the Central Government, then branches shall temporarily cease operations in the account till the time the Permanent Account Number or equivalent e-documents thereof or Form No. 60 is submitted by the customer.

Provided that before temporarily ceasing operations for an account, branches shall give the customer an accessible notice and a reasonable opportunity to be heard. There is relaxation for continued operation of accounts for customers who are unable to provide Permanent Account Number or equivalent e-document thereof or Form No. 60 owing to injury, illness or infirmity on account of old age or otherwise and such like causes. Such accounts shall, however, be subject to enhanced monitoring.

Provided further that if a customer having an existing account-based relationship with a branch gives in writing to the branch that he does not want to submit his Permanent Account Number or equivalent e-document thereof or Form No.60, branch shall close the account and all obligations due in relation to the account shall be appropriately settled after establishing the identity of the customer by obtaining the identification documents as applicable to the customer.

Explanation – For the purpose of this Section, “temporary ceasing of operations” in relation an account shall mean the temporary suspension of all transactions or activities in relation to that account by the branch till such time the customer complies with the provisions of this Section. In case of asset accounts such as loan accounts, for the purpose of ceasing the operation in the account, only credits shall be allowed.

Further, appropriate relaxation(s) is to be given for continued operation of accounts for customers who are unable to provide Permanent Account Number or equivalent e-document thereof or Form No. 60 owing to injury, illness or infirmity on account of old age or otherwise, and such like causes.

3.2 Customer Due Diligence (CDD) :

The customer due diligence means identifying and verifying the customer and the beneficial owner. It may be defined as any measure undertaken by a financial institution to collect and verify information and positively establish the identity of a customer. Branches shall obtain information using Aadhaar or ‘Officially Valid documents’ or the equivalent e-document thereof containing the details of his identity and address including PAN or the equivalent e-document thereof or Form 60 from an individual while establishing an account based relationship or while dealing with the individual who is a beneficial owner, authorized signatory or the power of attorney holder related to any legal entity. While opening a joint account, CDD procedure including obtaining PAN or the equivalent e-document thereof or Form 60 as applicable is to be followed for all the joint account holders.

Where branches are unable to comply with the CDD requirements mentioned above, they shall not open accounts, commence business relations or perform transactions. In case of existing business relationship which is not KYC compliant, branches shall ordinarily take step to terminate the existing business relationship after giving due notice.

There are 3 types of CDD that can be used in accordance with the risk category of the customer.

3.2.1 Basic Due Diligence:

Basic Due Diligence means collection and verification of identity proof, address proof and photograph to establish the identity of the customer. This is based on documents and forms the basis of the KYC programme of the bank. A different set of documents can be listed for different type of customers as seen in Para 3.1.2.4. of this Policy.

3.2.2 Simplified Due Diligence:

The due diligence applied to establish the identity of the customer involving measures less stringent than Basic Due Diligence, can be termed as Simplified Due Diligence. Simplified Due Diligence can be applied to Accounts of people belonging to low income group.

3.2.3 Enhanced Due Diligence (EDD):

Additional diligence measures undertaken over and above the Basic Due Diligence can be termed as Enhanced Due Diligence. EDD would be required to be undertaken as per Reserve Bank of India guidelines for the medium and higher risk customers of the Bank. (For e.g. NRI, foreign Nationals, PEP, Non-face to face customer, Pooled account, Specific type of business, Customers who live in High risk countries, Trust Accounts, Correspondent Banking).

Branches should carry out on-going due diligence of existing customers which is regular monitoring of transactions in accounts in order to ensure that their transactions are consistent with the branch's knowledge of the customer, his business and risk profile and wherever necessary, the source of funds.

Specific types of relationships where EDD may be required to be applied:

3.2.3.1 Client accounts opened by professional intermediaries:

When the bank has knowledge or reason to believe that the client account opened by a professional intermediary is on behalf of a single client, that client must be identified. Banks may hold 'pooled' accounts managed by professional intermediaries on behalf of entities like mutual funds, pension funds or other types of funds. Banks also maintain 'pooled' accounts managed by lawyers/chartered accountants or stockbrokers for funds held 'on deposit' or 'in escrow' for a range of clients. Where funds held by the intermediaries are not co-mingled at the bank and there are 'sub-accounts', each of them attributable to a beneficial owner, all the beneficial owners must be identified. Where such funds are co-mingled at the bank, the bank should still look through to the beneficial owners.

Where the branch relies on the 'customer due diligence' (CDD) done by an intermediary, the branch should satisfy itself that the intermediary is regulated and supervised and has adequate systems in place to comply with the KYC requirements. For the purpose of identifying and verifying the identity of customers at the time of commencement of an account-based relationship, Branches may rely on a third party; subject to the conditions that:-

- (a) The Branch immediately (within two days) obtains necessary information of such client due diligence carried out by the third party or from Central KYC Registry;
- (b) Branch takes adequate steps to satisfy itself that copies of identification data and other relevant documentation relating to the client due diligence requirements will be made available from the third party upon request without delay;
- (c) The Branch is satisfied that such third party is regulated, supervised or monitored for, and has measures in place for compliance with client due diligence and record-keeping requirements in line with the requirements and obligations under the PML Act;
- (d) The third party is not based in a country or jurisdiction assessed as high risk; and
- (e) The Branch is ultimately responsible for client due diligence and undertaking enhanced due diligence measures, as applicable. It should be understood that the ultimate responsibility for knowing the customer lies with the branch.

Further, if the professional intermediaries like Chartered Accountant or lawyer etc. are unable to disclose the true identity of the owner of the account / funds due to any professional obligation of customer confidentiality, branches should not open or hold accounts of professional intermediaries on behalf of a client. Further, because of such obligation on the part of the professional intermediary, branches are unable to know and verify the true identity of the client on whose behalf account is held or beneficial ownership and / or understand the true nature and purpose of transactions, then branches should not open an account, on behalf of a client, by professional intermediary.

3.2.3.2 Accounts of Politically Exposed Persons (PEPs) resident outside India as defined in Para No.3.1.2.8

3.2.3.3 Accounts of non-face-to-face customers as defined in Para No.3.1.2.9

3.2.3.4 Correspondent Banking

Correspondent banking is the provision of banking services by one bank (the “correspondent bank”) to another bank (the “respondent bank”). These services may include cash/funds management, international wire transfers, drawing arrangements for demand drafts and mail transfers, payable through accounts, cheques clearing etc. Branches should gather sufficient information to understand fully the nature of the business of the correspondent/ respondent bank. Information on the other bank’s management, major business activities, level of AML/CFT compliance, purpose of opening the account, identity of any third party entities that will use the correspondent banking services, and regulatory/supervisory framework in the correspondent's/respondent's country may be of special relevance. Similarly, Branches should try to ascertain from publicly available information whether the other bank has been subject to any money laundering or terrorist financing investigation or regulatory action. While it is desirable that such relationships should be established only with the approval of the Board, in case the Boards of some banks wish to delegate the power to an administrative authority, they may delegate the power to a committee headed by the Chairman/CEO of the bank while laying down clear parameters for approving such relationships. Proposals approved by the Committee should invariably be put up to the Board at its next meeting for post facto approval. The responsibilities of each bank with whom correspondent banking relationship is established should be clearly documented. In the case of payable-through-accounts, the correspondent bank should be satisfied that the respondent bank has verified the identity of the customers having direct access to the accounts and is undertaking ongoing 'due diligence' on them. The correspondent bank should also ensure that the respondent bank is able to provide the relevant customer identification data immediately on request.

3.2.3.5 Non-resident Indians (NRIs)/Foreign Nationals

Indian customers resident overseas and foreign nationals based in India pose a bigger risk from money laundering perspective than ones placed domestically.

3.2.3.6 Fiduciary Accounts

Bank may exercise enhanced due diligence at the time of opening fiduciary accounts by intermediaries such as guardians of estates executors, administrators, assignees, receivers etc. for e.g. while opening of the account of an administrator of the estate, it may be necessary to examine the Letter of Administration (Authority) as it would give a picture of the assets of the estate. In cases of trust/nominee or fiduciary accounts whether the customer is acting on behalf of another person as trustee/nominee or any other intermediary is determined. In such cases, satisfactory evidence of the identity of the intermediaries and of the persons on whose behalf they are acting, as also details of the nature of the trust or other arrangements in place shall be obtained.

3.2.3.7. Due Diligence in Correspondent Banking arrangement with Co-Operative Banks

Branches have arrangements with co-operative banks wherein the latter open current accounts and use the cheque book facility to issue 'at par' cheques to their constituents and walk-in- customers for facilitating their remittances and payments. Since the 'at par' facility offered by commercial banks to co-operative banks is in the nature of Correspondent banking arrangements, branches should monitor and review such arrangements to assess the risks including credit risk and reputational risk arising therefrom. For this purpose, branches should retain the right to verify the records maintained by the client cooperative banks/ societies for compliance with the extant instructions on KYC and AML under such arrangements.

3.2.3.8. Customer Due Diligence for transactions in Virtual Currencies (VC):

Reserve Bank has advised to continue to carry out Customer Due Diligence processes in line with regulations governing standards for Know Your Customer (KYC), Anti-Money Laundering (AML), Combating of Financing of Terrorism (CFT) and obligations of regulated entities under Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA), 2002 in addition to ensuring compliance with relevant provisions under Foreign Exchange Management Act (FEMA) for overseas remittances.

3.3 Correspondent relationship with a “Shell Bank”:

“Shell bank” means a bank which is incorporated in a country where it has no physical presence and is unaffiliated to any regulated financial group.

3.3.1 Branches should refuse to enter into a correspondent relationship with a “shell bank”. Shell banks are not permitted to operate in India. Further, before establishing correspondent relationship with any foreign institution, appropriate measures should be taken by the Bank to satisfy themselves that the foreign respondent institution does not permit its accounts to be used by Shell Banks.

3.3.2 Branches should be extremely cautious while continuing relationships with respondent banks located in countries with poor KYC standards and countries identified as 'non-cooperative' in the fight against money laundering and terrorist financing. Branches should ensure that their respondent banks have anti-money laundering policies and procedures in place and apply enhanced 'due diligence' procedures for transactions carried out through the correspondent accounts. Branches are advised to refer to International Division, Central Office, for clarification / guidance in the matter.

3.3.3 Applicability to branches and subsidiaries outside India

The guidelines contained in this master circular shall apply to the branches and majority owned subsidiaries located abroad, especially, in countries which do not or insufficiently apply the FATF Recommendations, to the extent local laws permit.

When local applicable laws and regulations prohibit implementation of these guidelines, the same should be brought to the notice of Reserve Bank. In case there is a variance in KYC/AML standards prescribed by the Reserve Bank and the host country regulators, branches/overseas subsidiaries of banks are required to adopt the more stringent regulation of the two.

3.4 Information sought by Banks from Customers, Secrecy Obligation and Sharing of Information

- 3.4.1 Seeking personal information/details like number of dependents, the names of sons and daughters, lifestyle, number of foreign visits undertaken during the last three years, details of family members/relatives settled abroad, assets and liabilities, name and date of birth of spouse, wedding date, investments, etc., from customers which are not mandatory and relevant to perceive risk of a prospective customer while complying with KYC/AML requirement during the process of opening an account or during periodic updation. This has led to customer complaints that banks are going overboard in seeking information for KYC compliance and thereby invading into their privacy.
- 3.4.2 In this connection, attention of branches is drawn that information sought from customer is relevant to the perceived risk, is not intrusive, and is in conformity with the guidelines issued in this regard. Any other information from the customer should be sought separately with his/her consent and after opening the account. It is, therefore, reiterated that 'mandatory' information required for KYC purpose which the customer is obliged to give while opening an account only should be obtained at the time of opening the account/during periodic updation.
- 3.4.3 Other 'optional' customer details/additional information, if required may be obtained separately after the account is opened only with the explicit consent of the customer. The customer has a right to know what is the information required for KYC that she/he is obliged to give, and what is the additional information sought by the bank that is optional.
- 3.4.4 Further, it is reiterated that branches should ensure that the information (both 'mandatory' –before opening the account as well as 'optional'-after opening the account with the explicit consent of the customer) collected from the customer is to be treated as confidential and details thereof are not to be divulged for cross selling or any other like purposes without the express permission of the customer.
- 3.4.5 While considering the requests for data/information from Government and other agencies, branches shall satisfy themselves that the information being sought is not of such a nature as will violate the provisions of the laws relating to secrecy in the banking transactions.

The exceptions to the said rule shall be as under:

- i. Where disclosure is under compulsion of law
- ii. Where there is a duty to the public to disclose,
- iii. The interest of bank requires disclosure and
- iv. Where the disclosure is made with the express or implied consent of the customer.

3.6 Guidelines on Unique Customer Identification Code (UCIC)

- 3.6.2 Unique identifiers for customers has been introduced within the Bank. In our bank CIF is the Unique Number of customers. The CDD (Customer due diligence) procedure is applied at the UCIC / CIF level itself.

5. ANTI MONEY LAUNDERING STANDARDS

Money Laundering is the process whereby proceeds of crimes such as drugtrafficking, smuggling, terrorism, organized crimes, fraud and many othercrimes are converted into legitimate money through a series of financialtransactions making it impossible to trace back the origin of funds.

The technological advancements and introduction of New Technologies – Credit Cards /Debit Cards/Smart Cards/ Gift Cards/Mobile Wallet/ Net Banking/Mobile Banking/ RTGS / NEFT /ECS /IMPS etchave facilitated on line transfer of funds andrealtime settlement between the Banks across the globe. This has helpedmoney launderers to adopt innovative means and move funds faster acrosscontinents making detection and preventive action much more difficult. Thiscalls for a dynamic approach in tracking the crime. The staff members of theBank must be vigilant in the fight against money laundering and must notallow the bank tobe used for money laundering activities. The Bank shouldnot become the party to violation of law. As such, preventing moneylaundering activities is the duty and responsibility of the bankstaff.

Branches should pay special attention to any money laundering andfinancing of terrorismthreats that may arise from new or developing technologies including internet banking that might favour anonymity, and take measures, if needed, to prevent their use in money laundering schemes. As our Bank is engaged in the business of issuing a variety of Electronic Cards that are used by customers for buying goods and services, drawing cash from ATMs, and can be used for electronic transfer of funds, Branches are required to ensure full compliance with all KYC/AML/CFT guidelines issued from time to time, in respect of add-on/supplementary cardholders also. Further, marketing of credit cards is generally done through the services of agents. Branches should ensure that appropriate KYC procedures are duly applied before issuing the cards to the customers. It is also desirable that agents are also subjected to due diligence andKYC measures.

5.1 MONEY LAUNDERING:

As per the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA) 2002, the offence ofMoney Laundering is defined as:

Whoever directly or indirectly attempts to indulge or knowingly assists orknowingly is a party or is actually involved in any process or activityconnected with the proceeds of a crime and projecting the same as a untaintedproperty – shall be guilty of offence of Money Laundering. MoneyLaundering is the process by which the criminals attempt to hide and disguisethe origin and ownership of theproceeds of their criminal activities like drugtrafficking, trafficking in women and children, murder, extortion, childpornography etc. ‘Proceeds of crime’ means any property derived or obtained, either directly or indirectly by any person as a result of criminal activitiesrelating to a scheduled offence or the value of such property. Money Laundering, therefore, besides being a Statutory or Regulatory requirement is also a moral responsibility for all the Bank Employees.

Nomination of Designated Director:

Banks are required to nominate a Director on their Boards as “Designated Director”, as per the provisions of the Prevention of Money Laundering (Maintenance of Records) Rules, 2005 (Rules), to ensure overall compliance with the obligations under the Act and Rules.

“Designated Director “means a person designated by the Banks Board to ensure overall compliance with the obligations imposed under chapter IV of the PML Act and the Rules and includes the Managing Director or a whole-time Director duly authorized by Board of Directors if the reporting entity is a company. In no case, the Principal Officer shall be nominated as the Designated Director. The name, designation and address of the Designated Director are to be communicated to the Director, FIU-IND. In addition, it shall be the duty of every reporting entity, its Designated Director, officers and employees to observe the procedure and manner of furnishing and reporting information on transactions referred to in PML Rule.

Principal Officer:

“Principal Officer” means an officer nominated by the Bank, responsible for furnishing information as per Rule 8 of the PML rules. Principal Officer is responsible for ensuring compliance, monitoring transactions, and sharing and reporting information as required under the law / regulations. The name, designation and address of the Principal Officer are to be communicated to the Director, FIU-IND.

5.2 TERRORIST FINANCING:

Terrorists use similar methods for moving their funds. Some of the terrorist groups also indulge in criminal activities for funding their acts. However, there are two major differences between Money Laundering and Terrorist Financing.

4.2.1 Whereas in the case of Money Laundering, the source of money is always through criminal activities while Terrorist Financing can be from legitimately obtained income.

4.2.2 It is difficult to identify terrorist funding transactions as more often terrorist activities require small amounts.

5.3 WIRE TRANSFERS:

Banks use wire transfers as an expeditious method for transferring funds between bank accounts. Wire transfers include transactions occurring within the national boundaries of a country or from one country to another. As wire transfers do not involve actual movement of currency, they are considered as a rapid and secure method for transferring value from one location to another.

5.3.1 The salient features of a wire transfer transaction are as under:

a) Wire transfer is a transaction carried out, directly or through a chain of transfers, on behalf of an originator person (both natural and legal) through a bank by electronic means with a view to making an amount of money available to a beneficiary person at a bank. The originator and the beneficiary may be the same person.

b) Cross-border transfer means any wire transfer where the originator and the beneficiary bank or financial institutions are located in different countries. It may include any chain of wire transfers that has at least one cross-border element.

c) Domestic wire transfer means any wire transfer where the originator and receiver are located in the same country. It may also include a chain of wire transfers that takes place entirely within the borders of a single country even though the system used to affect the wire transfer may be located in another country.

d) The originator is the account holder, or where there is no account, the person (natural or legal) that places the order with the bank to perform the wire transfer.

5.3.2 Wire transfer is an instantaneous and most preferred route for transfer of funds across the globe and hence, there is a need for preventing terrorists and other criminals from having unfettered access to wire transfers for moving their funds and for detecting any misuse when it occurs. This can be achieved if basic information on the originator of wire transfers is immediately available to appropriate law enforcement and/or prosecutorial authorities in order to assist them in detecting, investigating, prosecuting terrorists or other criminals and tracing their assets. The information can be used by Financial Intelligence Unit - India (FIU-IND) for analyzing suspicious or unusual activity and disseminating it as necessary. The originator information can also be put to use by the beneficiary bank to facilitate identification and reporting of suspicious transactions to FIU-IND. Owing to the potential terrorist financing threat posed by small wire transfers, the objective is to be in a position to trace all wire transfers with minimum threshold limits. Accordingly, branches must ensure that all wire transfers are accompanied by the following information:

(A) CROSS BORDER WIRE TRANSFERS.

- i) All cross-border wire transfers including transactions using credit or debit card must be accompanied by accurate and meaningful originator information.
- ii) Information accompanying cross-border wire transfers must contain the name and address of the originator and where an account exists, the number of that account. In the absence of an account, a unique reference number, as prevalent in the country concerned, must be included.
- iii) Where several individual transfers from a single originator are bundled in a batch file for transmission to beneficiaries in another country, they may be exempted from including full originator information, provided they include the originator's account number or unique reference number as at (ii) above.

(B) DOMESTIC WIRE TRANSFERS

- i) Information accompanying all domestic wire transfers of Rs.50000/- (Rupees Fifty Thousand) and above must include complete originator information i.e. name; address and account number etc.,
- ii) If a branch has reason to believe that a customer is intentionally structuring wire transfer to below Rs. 50000/- (Rupees Fifty Thousand) to several beneficiaries in order to avoid reporting or monitoring, the branch must insist on complete customer identification before effecting the transfer. In case of non-cooperation from the customer, efforts should be made to establish his identity and Suspicious Transaction Report (STR) should be sent to Compliance Officer at ROs /Principal Officer for onward submission to FIU-IND.
- iii) When a credit or debit card is used to effect money transfer, necessary information as (i) above should be included in the message.

5.3.3 EXEMPTIONS

Interbank transfers and settlements where both the originator and beneficiary are banks or financial institutions would be exempted from the above requirements.

5.3.4 ROLE OF ORDERING, INTERMEDIARY AND BENEFICIARY BANKS:

(a) Ordering Bank

An ordering bank is the one that originates a wire transfer as per the order placed by its customer. If the branch is an ordering bank, it must ensure that qualifying wire transfers contain complete originator information. The branch must also verify and preserve the information at least for a period of five years.

(b) Intermediary Bank

For both cross-border and domestic wire transfers, a bank processing an intermediary element of a chain of wire transfers must ensure that all originator information accompanying a wire transfer is retained with the transfer. Where technical limitations prevent full originator information accompanying a cross-border wire transfer from remaining with a related domestic wire transfer, a record must be kept at least for five years (as required under Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002) by the receiving intermediary bank, of all the information received from the ordering bank. If the branch is an intermediary Bank, it must be ensured that all the records as aforesaid are preserved for a period of five years. For further details, please refer to para 10.5 "PRESERVATION OF RECORDS" of this Policy.

(c) Beneficiary bank

A beneficiary bank should have effective risk-based procedures in place to identify wire transfers lacking complete originator information. The lack of complete originator information may be considered as a factor in assessing whether a wire transfer or related transactions are suspicious and whether they should be reported to the Financial Intelligence Unit-India. The beneficiary bank should also take up the matter with the ordering bank if a transaction is not accompanied by detailed information of the fund remitter. If the ordering bank fails to furnish information on the remitter, the beneficiary bank should consider restricting or even terminating its business relationship with the ordering bank.

5.4 CHECK LIST FOR PREVENTING MONEY-LAUNDERING ACTIVITIES

The illustrative checklist for preventing money-laundering activities is as under:

- 5.4.1 A customer maintains multiple accounts, transfer money among the accounts and uses one account as a master account from which wire/funds transfer originates or into which wire/funds transfer are received (a customer deposits funds in several accounts, usually in amounts below a specified threshold and the funds are then consolidated into one master account and wired outside the country.)

5.4 Money Laundering and Terrorist Financing (ML/ TF) Risk Assessment:

- a) As per Section (5A) of Chapter II of the MD on KYC 2016, the Bank is required to carry out 'Money Laundering (ML) and Terrorist Financing (TF) Risk Assessment' exercise periodically to identify, assess and take effective measures to mitigate its money laundering and terrorist financing risk for clients, countries or geographic areas, products, services, transactions or delivery channels, etc. The assessment process should consider all the relevant risk factors before determining the level of overall risk and the appropriate level and type of mitigation to be applied. While preparing the internal risk assessment, Bank shall take cognizance of the overall sector-specific vulnerabilities, if any, that the regulator/supervisor may share with bank from time to time.
- b) The risk assessment by the Bank shall be properly documented and be proportionate to the nature, size, geographical presence, complexity of activities/structure, etc. of our Bank. - d) Bank shall apply a Risk Based Approach (RBA) for mitigation and management of the identified risk and should have Board approved policies, controls and procedures in this regard. Further, Bank shall monitor the implementation of the controls and enhance them if necessary.

6. MONITORING OF TRANSACTIONS– ON-GOING DUE DILIGENCE :

To obviate the scope for frauds and prevent Money Laundering, regular monitoring and supervision of accounts is essential. By understanding the normal and reasonable activity of the customers, coupled with controlling the accounts effectively, risk can be reduced.

Branches shall undertake on-going due diligence of customers to ensure that their transactions are consistent with their knowledge about the customers, customers' business and risk profile; and the source of funds.

Monitoring customer activity and transactions throughout the relationship helps the Banks to know their customers, assess risk and provides greater assurance that the Bank is not being used for the purposes of financial crime. However, the extent of monitoring shall be aligned with the risk category of the customer. High risk accounts have to be subjected to more intensified monitoring.

Without prejudice to the generality of factors that call for close monitoring following types of transactions shall necessarily be monitored:

- (a) Very high account turnover inconsistent with the size of the balance maintained may indicate that funds are being 'washed' through the account.
- (b) Special attention should be paid to the complex, unusually large transactions including RTGS transaction and all unusual patterns, inconsistent with the normal and expected activity of the customer, which have no apparent economic rationale or lawful purpose.
- (c) Transaction which exceeds the threshold prescribed for specific categories of accounts.
- (d) Deposit of third party cheques, drafts, etc. in the existing and newly opened accounts followed by cash withdrawals for large amounts.

A system of periodic review of risk categorization of accounts, with such periodicity being at least once in six months, and the need for applying enhanced due diligence measures shall be undertaken.

“Transaction” means a purchase, sale, loan, pledge, gift, transfer, delivery or the arrangement thereof and includes-

- (i) Opening of an account;
- (ii) Deposits, withdrawal, exchange or transfer of funds in whatever currency, whether in cash or by cheque, payment order or other instruments or by electronic or other non-physical means;

- (v) Any payment made or received in whole or in part of any contractual or other legal obligation;
- (vi) Establishing or creating a legal person or legal arrangement.

6.1 MONITORING OF CASH TRANSACTIONS: Permanent account number (PAN) of customers shall be obtained and verified from the verification facility of the issuing authority while undertaking transactions as per the provisions of Income Tax Rule 114B applicable to banks, as amended from time to time.

6.1.1. To effectively track the cash transactions of Rs. 10 lacs and above (or its equivalent in foreign currency) branches should monitor the details of individual cash deposits and withdrawals of Rs.10 lacs and above on following parameters:

6.1.3 Regional Office on receipt of these statements from the Branches should immediately scrutinize the details thereof. In case any of the transactions prima-facie appears to be dubious or gives rise to suspicion, such transactions should be looked into by deputing officials from Regional Office. If any of the transaction is found to be of suspicious nature, it should be immediately informed to Zonal Manager/Field General Manager, Audit & Inspection Department, AML Cell, Compliance Department, Central Office.

DIT will generate CTR reports and provide the same in XML format on monthly basis, which are being filed online on FINnet site of FIUIND.

6.2 Monitoring of other transactions

- 6.2.1 Branches should closely monitor the newly opened accounts in the initial 3 to 6 months of their opening and track the transactions not in line with the profile of the customer.
- 6.2.2 Branches shall closely monitor the transactions in accounts of marketing firms, especially accounts of Multi-level Marketing (MLM) Companies.

Branches should handle the queries in this respect and sensitize the customers.

- 6.2.5 Any such incident should immediately be reported to Regional Office/Zonal Office and AML Cell, CO.

7. Combating Financing of Terrorism:

7.2 In terms of PMLA Rules, suspicious transaction should include inter alia transactions which give rise to a reasonable ground of suspicion that these may involve financing of the activities relating to terrorism. Banks are, therefore, advised to develop suitable mechanism through appropriate policy framework for enhanced monitoring of accounts suspected of having terrorist links and swift identification of the transactions and making suitable reports to the Financial Intelligence Unit – India (FIU-IND) on priority.

7.3 As per the communication received from the Financial Action Task Force (FATF), the strategic AML / CFT deficient jurisdictions are divided into 3 groups as under:

7.3.1 Jurisdictions subject to FATF call on its members and other jurisdictions to apply counter measures to protect the international financial system from the ongoing and substantial money laundering and terrorist financing (ML/FT) risks emanating from the jurisdiction: Iran

7.3.2 Jurisdictions with strategic AML/CFT deficiencies that have not committed to an action plan developed with the FATF to address key deficiencies as of February 2010. The FATF calls on its members to consider the risks arising from the deficiencies associated with each jurisdiction viz; Angola, Democratic People's Republic of Korea (DPRK), Ecuador and Ethiopia.

7.3.3 Jurisdictions previously publicly identified by the FATF as having strategic AML/CFT deficiencies, which remain to be addressed as of February 2010: Pakistan, Turkmenistan and Sao Tome and Principe.

Further, special attention should be given to business relationships and transactions with persons (including legal persons and other financial institutions) from or in countries that do not or insufficiently apply the FATF Recommendations and jurisdictions included in FATF statements.

- c) appears to have no economic rationale or bonafide purpose;
- d) gives rise to reasonable ground of suspicion that it may involve financing of activities of terrorism
- e) Further, when the branch is unable to verify the identity and / or obtain documents required or non-reliability of the data /information furnished to the Bank and is unable to apply appropriate customer due diligence measures and therefore believes that it would no longer be satisfied that it knows the true identity of the customer, besides taking a decision whether to continue the business relationship, should also file an STR with FIU-IND.

up to date, making it difficult for enforcement agencies to locate the account holder. Sometimes transactions related to money laundering or terrorist financing are carried out through Money Mules.

7.5.7.3 The operations of such mule accounts can be minimized if branches strictly follow the guidelines of KYC/AML/CFT/Obligation of banks under PMLA, 2002 issued from time to time and to those relating to periodical updation of customer identification data after the account is opened and also to monitoring of transactions in order to protect themselves and their customers from misuse by such fraudsters. If the transactions / activity in the account where alert is generated is apparently commensurate with the profile of the customer and /or on further investigation, the transactions / activity appears to be genuine and no suspicion is observed, MLRO will close the alerts.

The first level Officer (Senior Manager), second level Officer (Chief Manager) and Principal Officer shall randomly check the alerts closed by MLRO to assess the quality of closure and in case any suspicious activity is observed in the closed alerts on random checking , the same shall be re-examined and STR be filed with FIU – INDIA.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS (FAQs)

Q 1. What is KYC?

Response: KYC is an acronym for —Know your Customer, a term used for Customer identification process. It is a process by which banks obtain information about the identity and address of the customers while establishing an accountbased relationship or while dealing with the individual who is a beneficial owner, authorised signatory or the power of attorney holder related to any legal entity.

It involves making reasonable efforts to determine, the true identity and beneficial ownership of accounts, source of funds, financial status & nature of customer's business, reasonableness of operations in the account in relation to the customer's overall profile, etc. which in turn helps the banks to manage their risks prudently.

Q 2. What is the objective of KYC?

Response: The objective of the KYC guidelines is to prevent Bank from being used, intentionally or unintentionally, by criminal elements for Money Laundering or Terrorist Financing activities.

KYC procedures also enable the Bank to know/understand their customers and their financial dealings better, which in turn helps it to manage the associated risks prudently and enable the Bank to comply with all the legal and regulatory obligations in respect of KYC norms / AML standards / CFT measures / Bank's Obligation under PMLA, 2002 and to cooperate with various government bodies dealing with related issues.

Q 3. What is Money Laundering and Terrorist financing?

Response: Money laundering refers to conversion of money illegally obtained to make it appear as if it originated from a legitimate source. Money laundering is being employed by launderers worldwide to conceal criminal activity associated with it such as drugs /arms trafficking, terrorism and extortion. Terrorist financing means financial support to, in any form of terrorism or to those who encourage, plan or engage in terrorism. Money launderers send illicit funds through legal channels in order to conceal their criminal origin while those who finance terrorism transfer funds that may be legal or illicit in original in such a way as to conceal their source and ultimate use, which is to support Terrorist financing.

Money laundering has become a pertinent problem worldwide threatening the stability of various regions by actively supporting and strengthening terrorist networks and criminal organizations. The links between money laundering, organized crime, drug trafficking and terrorism pose a risk to financial institutions globally. Government of India has promulgated Prevention of Money-Laundering Act, 2002 and the Prevention of Money-Laundering (Maintenance of Records) Rules, 2005, and RBI Master Direction on KYC, enforces legal/statutory/regulatory obligations on both bank and customers to provide KYC information/documents.

Q 4. Whether KYC is mandatory?

Response: Yes. It's a regulatory and legal requirement. □ Regulatory: - In terms of the guidelines issued by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on 29 November, 2004 on Know Your Customer (KYC) Standards - Anti Money Laundering (AML) measures, all banks are required to put in place a comprehensive policy framework covering KYC Standards and AML Measures. □ Legal:- The Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002 (PMLA) which came into force from 1st July, 2005 (after —rules‖ under the Act were formulated and published in the Official Gazette) also requires Banks, Financial Institutions and Intermediaries to ensure that they follow certain minimum standard of KYC and AML as laid down in the ACT and the —rules‖ framed thereunder.

Q 5. Is KYC information obtained from customer kept confidential?

Response: Yes, the customer profile/information collected by the Bank at the time, of account opening or otherwise, are kept confidential and are not disclosed to any person, except when required under the provisions of applicable laws and regulations or where there is a duty to the public to disclose or the interest of bank requires disclosure.

Q 6. What are the documents to be obtained from customers as 'proof of identity' and 'proof of address'?

Foreign remittances cannot be credited to such accounts. Such accounts remain operational initially for a period of twelve months and thereafter, for a further period of twelve months, if the holder of such an account provides evidence to the bank of having applied for any of the officially valid documents within twelve months of the opening of such account. The bank will review such account after twenty four months to see if it requires such relaxation.

While using e-KYC service, customer has to authorise the Unique Identification Authority of India (UIDAI), by explicit consent, to release his/her identity/address through biometric authentication to the bank branches/business correspondent (BC). The UIDAI then transfers his/her data comprising name, age, gender, and photograph of the individual, electronically to the bank/BC. Q 16. Is introduction necessary while opening a bank account?

Response: No, introduction is not required.

Q 17. Can a customer transfer his existing bank account from one branch to another?

Response: KYC verification once done by one branch / office of the Bank shall be valid for transfer of the account to any other branch / office of the same Bank, provided full KYC verification has already been done for the concerned account and the same is not due for periodic updation.

Q 18. Is a customer required to furnish KYC documents for each account he/she opens in the Bank?

Response: As per RBI guidelines, an individual customer can maintain only a single Unique Customer ID Code (UCIC)/Customer-ID in a Bank and all the accounts of the customer have to be opened/linked under this Customer-ID. Therefore, if a customer has opened an account with the Bank, which is KYC compliant, then for opening another account, furnishing of documents is not necessary.

Q 19. Customer's KYC was completed when he/she opened the account. Why does Bank ask for doing KYC again?

Response: In terms of RBI guidelines, Bank is required to periodically update KYC records. This is a part of ongoing due diligence on bank accounts. The periodicity of such updation varies from account to account or categories of accounts depending on the Bank's perception of risk. Further, the Bank may insist for KYC updation, whenever there is a doubt about the authenticity or adequacy of the customer identification data it has obtained.

Q 20. What are the rules regarding periodical updation of KYC?

Response: Different periodicities have been prescribed for updation of KYC records depending on the risk perception of the bank. Periodic updation of KYC is to be carried out at least once in every two years for high risk customers, once in every eight years for medium risk customers and once in every ten years for low risk customers. Branch has to review the documents sought at the time of opening of account and obtain fresh certified copies from customer. However, in case of low risk customers when there is no change in status with respect to their identities and addresses, a self-certification to that effect may be obtained.

Provided Branch has to ensure that KYC documents, as per extant requirements of the Master Direction, are available with the Bank.

Q 21. What if the customer does not provide KYC documents at the time of periodic updation?

Response: If customer does not provide his/her KYC documents at the time of periodic updation, Bank shall temporarily cease operations in the account. The account holders shall have the option to revive their accounts by submitting the KYC documents.

Q 22. Do the customer need to submit KYC documents to the bank while purchasing third party products (like insurance or mutual fund products) from banks?

Response: Yes, all customers who do not have accounts with the Bank (known as walk-in customers) have to produce proof of identity and address while purchasing third party products from Bank if the transaction is for ₹50,000 and above. KYC exercise may not be necessary for bank's own customers for purchasing third party products. However, instructions to make payment by debit to customers' accounts or against cheques for remittance of funds/issue of travellers' cheques, sale of gold/silver/platinum and the requirement of quoting PAN number for transactions of ₹50,000 and above would be applicable to purchase of third party products from Bank by Bank's customers as also to walk-in customers.

Q 23. Whether the Customer Due Diligence (CDD) of all the members of the Self Help Group is required at the time of credit linking of SHGs?

Response: Yes, Customer Due Diligence (CDD) of all the members of SHG should be undertaken at the time of credit linking of SHGs, however, for opening of savings Bank account of SHGs, KYC verification / Customer due diligence of all office bearers will be sufficient.
